

Poster Prizes

The CLINAM Foundation has formed a jury for the poster Prizes. The team consists this year by Prof. Dr. med. Christoph Alexiou, Prof. Dr. Chezy Barenholz, Prof. Dr. Dr. Twan Lammers, Prof. Dr. Gert Storm and Dr. Ruth Schmid. Main criteria for election of winners was the clarity/clear story and novelty. Prizes are given in three categories 1. Basic Nanomedicine; 2. Translational Nanomedicine and 3. Nanotoxicology & Nano-Bio Characterization. In each category there are 3 prizes. First prize 500.00 CHF, Second prize 350.00 CHF, Third prize 250.00 CHF. The prizes are sponsored by the Swiss Federal Laboratories for Materials Science and Technology (EMPA). Watch the contributions online. Here are the winners:

Basic Nanomedicine

Rank	Name	First Name	Titel
1	Scherger	Maximilian	Site-specific nanobody conjugation for targeted drug delivery to protumoral tumor-associated macrophages
2	Helal	Dina	Temozolomide acid loaded nanoparticles: a protein-based platform for glioma therapy
3	Keil	Isabell	Development of nanoparticle-based mRNA carrier systems for transient immunomodulation of immune cells

Translational Nanomedicine

Rank	Name	First Name	Titel
1	Walters	Adam A	The development of a novel dual targeting nucleic acid-based immunotherapy for treatment of tumours
2	Zenych	Alina	Thrombolytic therapy based on P-selectin targeted polysaccharide nanoparticles
3	Bohley	Marilena	Cyclosporin a loaded lipid nanoparticles for the intravenous treatment of retinopathy of prematurity

Nanotoxicology and Nanobiocharacterization

Rank	Name	First Name	Titel
1	Lipsa	Dorelia	Assessing inter-individual activation of the complement system to increase the safety of liposomal formulations
2	Schmitt	Sascha	Fluorescence correlation spectroscopy studies of nanocarrier-based drug delivery systems
3	Barbato	Maria Grazia	Biomimetic micropillary-on-a-chip to modulate endothelial permeability against nanodelivery systems

We congratulate the winners. They will send their bank details to Dr. Löffler by email. They must also give their full private address where the official winner-certificate will be sent to.
